UNIQUE CARGO FOR VESSEL

Whittier Will Load Fresh Water for California.

The tank steamer Whittier, with the oil bulk Santa Paula in tow, arrived yesterday from Orem, Cal. Steamer and barge have fuel oil cargoes. The Whittier on her return trip will take by far the most unique cargo ever sent out of this port. At Portland she will fill her spacious tanks with fresh water for the Oleum plant. Fresh water is a scarce article there and costs the refinery about 1 cent a gallon. As the Whittier is capable of carrying 10,000 barrels, her water cargo will be worth something.
